

COMMISSIONER SUFFERING FROM SPRAINED ANKLE

W. T. CUDDY WILL BE CONFINED TO HIS HOME FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

County Commissioner W. T. Cuddy is confined to his home suffering from a sprained ankle. The injured ankle resulted from stepping on a rock which turned under his foot and gave the ankle a severe wrench. Mr. Cuddy attended to his duties for several days after meeting with the accident and managed to be about with the aid of a cane and crutch. However, a couple of days ago the pain grew so severe that he was forced to keep to his bed. He is now progressing favorably and expects to be about in a few days.

CORONERS JURY FINDS THAT DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

NO BLAME ATTACHED TO MINING COMPANY FOR DEATH OF JAMES WASLEY.

A verdict was returned last evening by the coroner's jury, which investigated the death of James Wasley, who was killed Wednesday in the Silver Top mine, stating that death was due to suffocation. The jury spent several hours in listening to the reports of witnesses, and also to the report of State Mine Inspector Ed Ryan. Mr. Ryan made a thorough investigation of the affair. The jury stated that death was accidental and placed no blame on the mining company.

The funeral of the deceased took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the Episcopal church. Services were pronounced by the Rev. J. J. H. Reedy, pastor of St. Mark's. The local union of the Western Federation of Miners, of which Wasley was a member, had charge of the funeral, and the burial service of this order was read at the grave.

INDIANS BEING ANNIHILATED.

"Within a hundred years it is likely the Indians will be no more," asserted Fred A. Baker of Washington, D. C., at the convention of Indian superintendents here yesterday. "They will have been annihilated by the white people." Mr. Baker continued. Of course there will be a few tribes in inaccessible places who will continue in their present state, but virtually all Indians will be amalgamated with the Caucasian race. This amalgamation is going on in Oklahoma among the Five Civilized tribes."

Mr. Baker said, however, that the common notion that the Indians were rapidly dying is erroneous.

ED REDMOND

With the Redmond Stock Company at the Nevada Theater Next Week.

—What should prove the dramatic event of the season here is the coming engagement of the famous Ed Redmond company, which opens its run at the Nevada theater Monday night in "The Man on the Box," to be followed by all of the season's successes. The demand for seats has been such as to assure a big reception to the noted players, and the week should go down in theatrical history in this city.

The opening bill is a dramatization from the successful novel by George Barr McCutcheon and is well known to local book-lovers. In fact, each of the noted plays to be produced by the company during its engagement here is well known to theater-goers of this city, and it probably will be the first and only occasion when such attractions will be offered in this city.

Local play-goers should crowd the theater during the engagement of the celebrated company, which comes to this city after having broken records in many other places and which is now in Nevada for the first time in its history.

Seats are now on sale at the Miners' Drug store.

PREPARING FOR A BIG BLOWOUT

WONDER'S PEOPLE TO CELEBRATE THE NEW ERA OF HER PROSPERITY.

Since the commencement of work on the new mill for Wonder, the fun lovers of the camp, who for some time have been rather dull, have begun waking up, and it has been decided that the time to celebrate the advent of the new era of prosperity has arrived. James Holmes, Wonder's pioneer groceryman, is so glad over the return of activity, that he has agreed to furnish the materials, both wet and dry, to make the occasion one to be remembered. The ladies of the camp have formed themselves into a committee to attend to the fixing of the fixings, the local musical talent has volunteered to tickle the mandolins and twang the guitar, and next Saturday night has been set as the time for the celebration. It promises to be a most successful affair. Some whispering is heard among the ladies, about whether they had better be fried or made into a great big pie, and there is some inquiry for hollow-stemmed glasses, the kind where one watches bubbles chasing each other.—Wonder News.

BIG AUDIENCE TAKEN IN BY EAGLES' WEDDING

Sunday evening a large crowd was drawn to the Nixon opera house to witness a wedding according to the Eagles' ceremony, invitations having been generously distributed. The contracting parties, according to the invitations, were A. C. Hill of Lovelock and Miss Maud Clafin of Reno. The ceremony was performed by Judge Robins, and the wedding looked genuine enough until the end, after the groom had kissed the bride, when the latter turned toward the audience a sign with the inscription, "Stung! Ha! Ha!" Then the audience realized that the wedding was a mock affair and the removal of the bridal veil which followed disclosed that a mere man, James Pyne, had taken the vows to love, cherish and obey and the farce was over, the audience, of course, taking the "sell" good humoredly.—Humboldt Star.

A "DEAD" ONE NOMINATED.

A dead man was recently nominated for the attorney generalship of Minnesota. It is barely possible that the politicians of that state have adopted the custom in vogue in Virginia City in the early days and are voting the names on the grave stones in the cemeteries. But there is still another explanation. It is not establishing a precedent to not only nominate, but to elect a dead one to office.—Reno Gazette.

Charlie is giving a $20 prize this week for the highest score, divided in first, second and third. This will give every one a chance to win, as this will be his last week in Tonopah. Marksmen, get busy. 9-12-6t.
